

What You Will Learn:

There are many reasons to encourage you and your prospects, customers, downline, sideline, upline, family and friends to take the next 8 week “live” Journey to Better Nutrition class. Here are a few of my favorites:

- You will learn how nutrition works inside your body more clearly and more precisely than ever before.
- You will learn how the Cell Tech products work inside your body more clearly and more precisely than ever before.
- You will have the opportunity to examine the most important beliefs and habits in your own diet and lifestyle to see if they are producing the benefits and results you want and need and deserve...or if they are just getting in your way!
- You will make and take the opportunity to implement new strategies one habit at a time, one week at a time. These are proven strategies that will help your body achieve more optimal functioning...and every health benefit that exists is the result of achieving and then maintaining more optimal functioning.
- Whether you are taking one Cell Tech product or ten Cell Tech products (or more!) you will learn how to get the optimum benefits from the products you purchase and use.
- You will gain confidence in your ability to take better care of yourself and you will gain confidence in your ability to coach and sponsor others in their quest for better health via better nutritional choices.
- And when the 8 week journey class is over, you will be very glad you took it! You will have learned and will have started to practice new ideas and new habits that will be an endless source of benefit to you and to everyone who knows and loves you.

To find out more about the next 8 week class and how you and others can participate contact me directly at maramor@fiam.net or call anytime at 413-536-0275. New classes start up on a regular and continual basis.